

Put Yourself on the Path to Success

MSAD #27 Continuing Education

Continuing Education helps people earn a High School or HiSET® Diploma

Your Daily Life is Where Learning Takes Off

You learn valuable skills every day in everything you do. You can help yourself learn even more by participating in Continuing Education through MSAD #27.

*“A high school or HiSET® diploma is worth an additional $7,500 per year in earnings.”*

-U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 2007

Continuing Education in MSAD #27 has three main goals:

1. To help adults gain the skills they need to get or keep a job or enter college
2. To help adults who are parents obtain the skills they need to
3. To help adults complete their high school or HiSET® diploma

Continuing Education helps children & adults succeed in school & in life

Children need their parent's support to succeed in school. Adults need to keep building their skills to keep up with a changing world. Continuing Education can put families on the path to success.

“More workers must demonstrate higher levels of literacy (and) technology skills...to function successfully in the workplace.”

~Trends and Implications for the Maine Workforce,

Maine Department of Labor, 2005

Continuing Education prepares learners to enter college

A college degree is becoming more important than ever to get a good job that can lead to a career. MSAD #27 Continuing Education offers college transition classes and the St. John Valley College Access Program.

“Adult Education programs are natural stepping stones to higher education.

-Greater Expectations,

Maine Compact for Higher Education, May 2004
