MSAD #27 Family Literacy

Your Family
Is Where Learning
Takes Off

Family learning is already in your
Home and in everything you do,
You can help your child learn
Even more by participating in Family Literacy through
MSAD #27.

*“Children who participate with their parents in Family Literacy
Programs improve their grades,
Test scores, and reading skills.”*

Family Literacy in MSAD #27

Combines the positive effects of:

1. Adult Education
2. Early Childhood Education
3. Parenting Education
4. Parent and Child Together Time

Family Literacy help children & adult succeed in school & in life

Children need their family's help to succeed in school and in life.

Adults need to keep building their skills to keep up with a changing world. Family Literacy puts both children and adults on the path to success.

"Adults' gains in Family Literacy programs were greater than those reported in stand-alone adult Education programs."

*~Family Strengthening
Policy Center, 2007*

Family Literacy is a great way to spend quality time together

Comments from Past Parent Participants

"Family Literacy helped me finish my education and helped my child learn colors and shapes."

"Family Literacy helped by child to read and comprehend better, and I furthered my learner."

"The one-on-one instruction with no distractions helped my child, who has disabilities, learn a lot more."

"There is more reading and communication in our household now."
